THE DEDICATION OF THE LIBRARY

AT EVANSVILLE WAS HELD THIS AFTERNOON AT THREE O'CLOCK.

ALMERON EAGER MEMORIAL

Beautiful Little Structure in the Cut-Off City Formally Presented to the City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, Ind., June 9.—This afternoon at three o'clock the Eager Memorial Library was formally presented to the city at the services held in the Metzer Opera House. The exercises which were attended by the leading citizens of the town consisted of a prayer by Rev. D. Hugh Grubbs, Mrs. Chas. Copeland then rendered a vocal solo which was followed by the formal presentation speech of Hon. A. S. Baker, a trustee of the Eager estate. Mayor T. C. Richardson then gave the speech of acceptance which was followed by talks by H. E. Leckie, secretary of the state library commission, Judge S. C. Johnson, Hon. Burr W. Jones of Madison, and Hon. W. W. Jones of Madison, after which letters were read from the following invited guests who were unable to be present: Senator La Follette, Senator Pettibone of Dakota, Byron Andrews of Washington, D. C., Rev. Wallace Short of Kansas and William Sweeney of Massachusetts. At the close of the exercises Mrs. Webb gave a vocal solo. The visitors then had the pleasure of inspecting the library building itself. It stands on the corner of Main and First streets with fifty feet frontage on Main street and thirty-eight feet on First street. It was built by a fund bequeathed to the city by the late Almeron Eager and is constructed of vitreous brick, is ornamented with a frieze of bronze green and has a tile roof. The interior of the main floor, or library room is finished with mission oak, the walls being of light shades and the floor carpeted with a cork carpet. It has shelving room for between eight and nine thousand volumes. In this room is a large bronze statue of the donor which is placed on a block of Montello granite. In the basement, which is finished with a tiled floor, is a lecture room, a class room, a furnace room and store room. The floors throughout the building are of hardwood and experts report the building one of the finest small libraries in the state.

YOUTHFUL CAMPAIGN MANAGER IN SOUTH

John T. Crawford, Who Wants to be National Delegate, Is Barely Twenty-one.

Pensacola, Fla., June 9.—Now that it is definitely settled that the entire Florida delegation to the Denver convention will be for William J. Bryan for the presidential nomination, it is interesting to note the fact that in this district John T. Crawford, who is barely twenty-one, has been chosen by a nice plurality, will have to enter a second primary to decide the matter, is probably the youngest candidate who ever aspired to a national delegate's position.

Mr. Crawford, who has barely attained his legal majority, was campaign manager for Governor Napoleon B. Broward in the recent spectacular primary race for United States Senator. It will be necessary to hold a second primary to decide this contest also, and Mr. Crawford will again manage the governor's campaign. Both as campaign manager and as a candidate in his own behalf he has established something of a precedent as to extreme youthfulness.

Mr. Crawford belongs to a family which for years has been prominent in public life in this state. His grandfather was for many years secretary of State of Florida, and his father, H. Clay Crawford, is at present holding that portfolio. His brother, W. B. Crawford, is proprietor of the Evening News of this city and also a man of prominence in political affairs.

GERMANS WILL ORGANIZE FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES

Actions of State Treasurer Dahl Are the Cause of This Movement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., June 9.—German voters of Wisconsin have formed an organization with headquarters in Milwaukee the purpose of which is to secure the nomination and election of a German on the republican state ticket next fall. The organization has not yet decided which of the state ticket places to demand and work for, but it is said that it is practically assured that the head of State Treasurer A. H. Dahl is most likely to be the prize sought. A Milwaukee German of prominence is to be selected and pushed for nomination. Dahl has been a German, I. P. Leigh, from his office, but Leigh was a re-statement suit, then Dahl fired A. H. Wagner, another Milwaukee German, and succeeded in restoring Wagner's attempt to regain his position through resort to the circuit court. This has annoyed the Germans, particularly of the Cream City, and the organization resulted. It is said that one of the most prominent leaders in the movement of Colonel George C. Brumder, a supporter of Senator La Follette and one of the delegates at large to the national convention, pledged to La Follette. Colonel Brumder was the highest man on the delegate at large ticket in the spring election and is a powerful element in politics of the state. It seems assured that Senator La Follette would have to keep off if Colonel Brumder should arrange himself against him, even though Dahl has been a faithful follower of the present senator. The gossip at the capital is exceedingly serious and dubious as to Dahl's chances for getting the customary second term.

Senator La Follette is holding daily conferences at his home at Maple Bluff, receiving many calls from members of his faction in Wisconsin politics, but no announcements have as yet been made as to any results of these conferences.

PRINCE HAS HARD TIME WITH SONS

Love Affairs of Sons of Prince Albrecht of Prussia Cause Him Trouble.

VETERANS' REUNION COMMENCED TODAY

United Confederate Veterans Begin Eighteenth Annual Encampment.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Birmingham, Ala., June 9.—The United Confederate Veterans began their eighteenth annual reunion today. The gathering was called to order in the Hippodrome at 10 o'clock this morning by General George P. Harrison, commander of the Alabama division. Chaplain Jones of Richmond delivered the invocation, Governor Comer welcomed the veterans to Alabama, and Mayor Ward spoke for the city of Birmingham. Other greetings were extended by Brig. Gen. J. W. Bush of the Alabama veterans and Mrs. Charles G. Brown for the Alabama daughters.

The welcome addresses were responded to by General W. L. Cabell, of Dallas, Texas, who is filling the unexpired term of the late commander-in-chief, General Stephen D. Lee. General Cabell's appearance as the occasion of a great demonstration. The veterans arose in a body, hats handkerchiefs and coats went into the air in all parts of the big hall, and cheer after cheer rang out, the gallery joining in the upsurges. It is generally believed that General Cabell will be elected commander-in-chief, if he can be persuaded to accept the office. Otherwise the honor will probably go to General Clement A. Evans, of Georgia. He is the ranking officer, next to General Cabell, and is a man greatly beloved by the Confederate veterans throughout the South.

When the veterans and their friends reassembled in the Hippodrome this afternoon it was to listen to the reunion oration, which was delivered by Colonel E. L. Russell of Mobile. Another feature was an address on "The Confederate Navy" by Judge A. O. Wright of Jacksonville, Fla. Tonight Governor and Mrs. B. B. Comer are to give a reception to the veterans and at the fair grounds there will be an elaborate display of fireworks.

In no city in which they have met have the veterans ever had a warmer welcome than they have received in Birmingham. Everywhere are flags and bunting. The Confederate colors predominate, but the national colors are everywhere. The storm-cratered nation that fell. On all sides there are decorations. Few people have refused to heed the request of the committee in charge to add a bit of color in honor of the occasion. Pictures of Confederate veterans are to be seen in great abundance. There are pictures of Jackson, Stuart, Longstreet, Beauregard, Hill, Robert P. Lee, Johnston, Wheeler and many others. The Hippodrome building, where the sessions of the reunion are being held, has been tastefully decorated. So also is the William Hotel, where the officers and headquarters have been established, and the City Hall, which is another chief rendezvous of the veterans. There has been no effort to overdo the matter. The colors are used with good effect, and are in sufficient number to make a good showing.

CRIPPLE CURSED IN COURT-ROOM TODAY

John McCarthy Churned the Air with Obscene Epithets as He Was Jerked from Temple of Justice.

On charges of drunkenness five prisoners were arraigned in municipal court this morning. Tom Nolan and Harry Nell of Evansville, who temporarily abandoned their court walk building operations in the Cut-off City for a respite in Janesville and who were arrested by Officer Fanning near the depot last evening while soliciting alms to continue their buchanan-alien revues, promised to be good and return to work, and Judge Fifelet suspended sentence to permit them to catch the first train home. James Adams and Charles Bates, two colored porters employed in West Side barber-shops, participated in a disturbance on West Milwaukee street last evening while in a state of intoxication and run into it that one of them drew a blade. Friends appeared on scene this morning and paid their respective fines of $3 and $2 and costs. John McCarthy, cripple and oldtime professional circus follower, told the court that while he was not drunk he would plead guilty, knowing that such a course was always the best policy. Judge Fifelet fined him $2 and costs with the alternative of four days in the jail. When the plug-ugly let loose a torrent of obscene and abusive language which caused Officer Chapman to seize him by the coat-collar and yank him from the courtroom in a double quick order. As he was jerked through the door he fastened his glowering, malignant gaze on the judge and screamed: "—with justice!"

CROWDED CHURCH IS SET ON FIRE

COOLNESS OF PRIESTS ALONE
SAVES MANY FROM DEATH.

PEOPLE QUIETLY SENT OUT

Shocking Case of Incendiarism Near Berlin Where Throng Gathered to Hear a Famous Dominican Monk.

Berlin, June 8.—An attempt was made Monday to burn down the old St. Paulus Catholic church at Meabitz, belonging to the Dominicans, which was crowded with people assembled to hear a sermon by the famous Dominican monk, Bonaventura. About 1,800 persons were present, including more than a thousand women and children, to hear the mass.

While the congregation was kneeling in silent prayer some one informed Father Bonaventura that the church was afire. Without alarming the congregation, he coolly stopped over to the priest who was celebrating mass and requested him to close the service.

Good Work by the Priests.
The priest left the altar and spoke to his six assistants, who walked down the aisle and whispered to the pewholders that an insignificant blaze had broken out and that they had better leave the building as soon as possible.

At this time the entire roof of the church was a mass of flames and the fire brigade was hurrying to the burning building. Those in the church, not knowing the extent of the blaze, fortunately did not realize their peril, and on the clergy's request made their exit rapidly and in an orderly manner.

FLAMES ROUT HOTEL GUESTS.

Part of the Gramatan, at Bronxville, N. Y., Destroyed.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., June 8.—Two hundred and five guests of the Hotel Gramatan, at Bronxville, West Chester county, were driven from their rooms by a fire which broke out early Tuesday in the left wing of the hotel. One-third of the hotel, which stood on a hill, was destroyed before the flames were extinguished. There was no loss of life and the property loss is estimated at $150,000.

The fire started from a defective flue in the room of a guest on the second floor and the alarm was promptly sounded. Clerks and bellboys ran through the hallways and saw that all the guests were aroused. The hotel fire brigade ran lines of hose to the burning wing and fire companies from New Rochelle, Yonkers, Tuckahoe and this city were summoned.

Newport, R. I., June 8.—The New Cliff hotel, on Cliff avenue, one of the famous summer resorts of this city, was burned early Tuesday morning.

DEMANDS ANTI-BETTING LAW.

Gov. Hughes Sends Special Message to Legislature.

Albany, N. Y., June 8.—Gov. Hughes sent to the extraordinary session of the legislature Monday night his long anticipated special message recommending for consideration "the enactment of suitable legislation for the prevention of race track gambling." He also recommends the enactment of "suitable legislation with regard to diseases of cattle, especially tuberculosis."

Forty-five senators—more than a quorum—were in their seats when the roll was called in the upper house, but Senator Fowler was not present. His vote is apparently of utmost importance to the fate of the anti-gambling legislation recommended by the governor.

The world will not be greatly surprised when an air sailor drifts across its upper face in a craft that answers wind and helm.

Don't Worry.
The immortal words of Rear Admiral Evans: "There are two things I never worry about—what I can't help and what I can."

Managers of the Cincinnati team are aroused as never before over the splendid showing which Manager Gausel's men have been making for the past few weeks. They are very much a factor in the race, and it is to be hoped that they will maintain their stride and continue in the fight. There is plenty of good material among the Reds, and Manager Gausel seems to be exercising splendid judgment in handling it.

Little More Team Work and Manager Gausel's Nine Will Be a Great One. Phillies Are Strong—Race For Pennant an Interesting Affair.

It is little wonder that the supporters of the National league are inclined to rave a bit over the closeness of the pennant race this year. It is a long time since the campaign in the old organization has been anything else than a walkover. Seldom indeed have there been more than two teams fighting it out at the finish, and sometimes the winner of the race was ascertained before the season was more than three-fourths over. As a result of this disarrangement in the strength of the teams, interest in the season died about the fourth of July, and the crowds thereafter scarcely paid expenses.

The outlook now is, however, that there will be no premature dying out of interest, but that fans in at least six cities will be watching the results of the games with deep interest right up to the last week of the battle. A western writer predicts that there will be no long consecutive winning streaks in the National league in 1908. With the teams balanced as they are it will certainly be a difficult matter to win many games in a row. The team that wins three or four running may be fortunate.

This is a very pleasing state of affairs. It means that the fans will be furnished better baseball, for so long as the race is close and the fighting hot every man in the game will be on his toes, whereas when a team realizes that it has not a chance to gain anything by hard playing, once that it has fallen hopelessly behind, the men are not likely to overexert themselves in the slightest degree, for there is no incentive for them to do so.

Many think that the 1908 campaign will prove the closest in the history of the old organization and that the autumn days will be in sight before it is possible to pick the winner with any degree of accuracy. The weak teams of former seasons have been greatly improved, and many times have they jolted the leaders.

The New York Giants started out well, but fell by the wayside on their western trip. McGraw evidently sees the weaknesses in his team as clearly as the others who have been pointing them out. If he does not, he should consult an oculist at once, for some of them are glaring indeed. McGraw is already making efforts to add strength to the team. He offered to trade Pitcher Ames to Cincinnati for Lebert, declaring that he wanted to use Huns on second base, this in spite of the fact that McGraw, Tenney and others have been making Doyle to the skies and declaring him to be one of the best second basemen in the business.

The Phillies are not overlooking anything that comes their way this season. In years past they have lacked the requisite amount of life and ginger to make them winners, but Manager Murray has made a few changes, and the team is playing 25 per cent better ball this year than in 1907.

The Pirates have been going along very well, but there is no doubt that still better things are in store for the followers of the Pirates. In the first place, nearly every man on the team will hit better than he has been doing of late, and, in the second place, the pitchers will soon show great improvement in form.

What is most pleasing to Manager Clarke is the fact that the Pirates, though encountering all varieties of hard luck, have managed to keep well up in the race. This is really a remarkable showing under the circumstances and leads Clarke to believe that when everything starts to going right there will be no stopping his men.

Followers of the Cincinnati team are aroused as never before over the splendid showing which Manager Gausel's men have been making for the past few weeks. They are very much a factor in the race, and it is to be hoped that they will maintain their stride and continue in the fight. There is plenty of good material among the Reds, and Manager Gausel seems to be exercising splendid judgment in handling it.

None of these knots is going to be untied by fumbling fingers. They are too complicated. They're all involved together—twisted and entangled over and about each other—so inter-twined that they can't be solved singly—like the Gordian knot they must be cut through at one stroke. And you can't cut the knot with any sword except the newspaper—because:

1—A store that is constantly before the people makes its own neighborhood.
2—Crowds can be brought from anywhere by daily advertising.
3—Customers can always be held by inducements.
4—Fixed expenses can only be reduced by increasing the volume of sales.
5—Good will can only be created through publicity.

Advertising is breeding new giants every year and making them more powerful every hour. Publicity is the sustaining food of a powerful store and the only strengthening nourishment for a weak one. The retailer who delays his entry into advertising must pay the penalty of his procrastination by facing more giant competitors as every month of opportunity slips by.

Personal ability as a close purchaser and as a clever seller doesn't count for a hang so long as other men are equally well posted and wear the sword of publicity to boot. They are able to tie your business into constantly closer knots, while you cannot retaliate because there is no knot which their advertising cannot cut for them.

Yesterday you lost a customer—today they took one—tomorrow they'll get another. You cannot cope with their competition because you haven't the weapon with which to oppose it. You can't untie your Gordian knot because it can't be untied—you've got to cut it.

You must become an advertiser or you must pay the penalty of incompetence.

You not only require the newspaper to fight for a more hopeful tomorrow, but to keep today's situation from becoming hopeless.

Van Gilder and Kearney, who keep a soft drink stand, are said to have sold intoxicating liquors over the counter of their establishment. A system of signs, grips and passwords is said to have been used in some cases to obtain liquors.

Hughes sent to the extraordinary session of the legislature Monday night his long anticipated special message recommending for consideration "the enactment of suitable legislation for the prevention of race track gambling." He also recommends the enactment of "suitable legislation with regard to diseases of cattle, especially tuberculosis."

Forty-five senators—more than a quorum—were in their seats when the roll was called in the upper house, but Senator Fowler was not present. His vote is apparently of utmost importance to the fate of the anti-gambling legislation recommended by the governor.

Toledo, O., June 8.—On claims aggregating $8,791,017 due the National Car Wheel company of New York, the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad was thrown into the hands of a receiver late Monday by United States District Judge W. W. Taylor. The petition alleges the total indebtedness of the Wheeling to be upwards of $200,000,000.

B. A. Worthington of Cleveland, vice-president and general manager of the Wheeling, was appointed receiver for the road and immediately qualified by filing a bond of $100,000 furnished by the United Surety company of Baltimore.

Belmont Slightly Better.
New York, June 8.—Late Monday night the condition of Oliver H. P. Belmont was stated at his country home near Hempstead, Long Island, to be somewhat improved. The change, slight as it was, has encouraged the physicians in attendance.

Providence Paper to Quit.
Providence, R. I., June 8.—The owners of the Providence Morning Tribune announced that the paper will cease publication on Saturday next. The higher cost of news print is given as the reason. The evening edition will be published as usual.

Air Sailors.
The world will not be greatly surprised when an air sailor drifts across its upper face in a craft that answers wind and helm.

Don't Worry.
The immortal words of Rear Admiral Evans: "There are two things I never worry about—what I can't help and what I can."

Managers of the Cincinnati team are aroused as never before over the splendid showing which Manager Gausel's men have been making for the past few weeks. They are very much a factor in the race, and it is to be hoped that they will maintain their stride and continue in the fight. There is plenty of good material among the Reds, and Manager Gausel seems to be exercising splendid judgment in handling it.

Little More Team Work and Manager Gausel's Nine Will Be a Great One. Phillies Are Strong—Race For Pennant an Interesting Affair.

It is little wonder that the supporters of the National league are inclined to rave a bit over the closeness of the pennant race this year. It is a long time since the campaign in the old organization has been anything else than a walkover. Seldom indeed have there been more than two teams fighting it out at the finish, and sometimes the winner of the race was ascertained before the season was more than three-fourths over. As a result of this disarrangement in the strength of the teams, interest in the season died about the fourth of July, and the crowds thereafter scarcely paid expenses.

The outlook now is, however, that there will be no premature dying out of interest, but that fans in at least six cities will be watching the results of the games with deep interest right up to the last week of the battle. A western writer predicts that there will be no long consecutive winning streaks in the National league in 1908. With the teams balanced as they are it will certainly be a difficult matter to win many games in a row. The team that wins three or four running may be fortunate.

This is a very pleasing state of affairs. It means that the fans will be furnished better baseball, for so long as the race is close and the fighting hot every man in the game will be on his toes, whereas when a team realizes that it has not a chance to gain anything by hard playing, once that it has fallen hopelessly behind, the men are not likely to overexert themselves in the slightest degree, for there is no incentive for them to do so.

Many think that the 1908 campaign will prove the closest in the history of the old organization and that the autumn days will be in sight before it is possible to pick the winner with any degree of accuracy. The weak teams of former seasons have been greatly improved, and many times have they jolted the leaders.

The New York Giants started out well, but fell by the wayside on their western trip. McGraw evidently sees the weaknesses in his team as clearly as the others who have been pointing them out. If he does not, he should consult an oculist at once, for some of them are glaring indeed. McGraw is already making efforts to add strength to the team. He offered to trade Pitcher Ames to Cincinnati for Lebert, declaring that he wanted to use Huns on second base, this in spite of the fact that McGraw, Tenney and others have been making Doyle to the skies and declaring him to be one of the best second basemen in the business.

The Phillies are not overlooking anything that comes their way this season. In years past they have lacked the requisite amount of life and ginger to make them winners, but Manager Murray has made a few changes, and the team is playing 25 per cent better ball this year than in 1907.

The Pirates have been going along very well, but there is no doubt that still better things are in store for the followers of the Pirates. In the first place, nearly every man on the team will hit better than he has been doing of late, and, in the second place, the pitchers will soon show great improvement in form.

What is most pleasing to Manager Clarke is the fact that the Pirates, though encountering all varieties of hard luck, have managed to keep well up in the race. This is really a remarkable showing under the circumstances and leads Clarke to believe that when everything starts to going right there will be no stopping his men.

None of these knots is going to be untied by fumbling fingers. They are too complicated. They're all involved together—twisted and entangled over and about each other—so inter-twined that they can't be solved singly—like the Gordian knot they must be cut through at one stroke. And you can't cut the knot with any sword except the newspaper—because:

1—A store that is constantly before the people makes its own neighborhood.
2—Crowds can be brought from anywhere by daily advertising.
3—Customers can always be held by inducements.
4—Fixed expenses can only be reduced by increasing the volume of sales.
5—Good will can only be created through publicity.

Advertising is breeding new giants every year and making them more powerful every hour. Publicity is the sustaining food of a powerful store and the only strengthening nourishment for a weak one. The retailer who delays his entry into advertising must pay the penalty of his procrastination by facing more giant competitors as every month of opportunity slips by.

Personal ability as a close purchaser and as a clever seller doesn't count for a hang so long as other men are equally well posted and wear the sword of publicity to boot. They are able to tie your business into constantly closer knots, while you cannot retaliate because there is no knot which their advertising cannot cut for them.

Yesterday you lost a customer—today they took one—tomorrow they'll get another. You cannot cope with their competition because you haven't the weapon with which to oppose it. You can't untie your Gordian knot because it can't be untied—you've got to cut it.

You must become an advertiser or you must pay the penalty of incompetence.

You not only require the newspaper to fight for a more hopeful tomorrow, but to keep today's situation from becoming hopeless.

SENATOR JULIUS CAESAR BURROWS AND WIFE OF MICHIGAN.

The selection of United States Senator Burrows to preside as temporary chairman over the republican national convention at Chicago makes him a figure of national interest, as he has always been a figure of national prominence. It was expected that the choice for chairman would fall on Senator Davenport of Indiana, Senator Doolittle of Iowa or Senator Long of Kansas. The selection of Senator Burrows is, in a way, a compromise between all three, and certainly it is an eminently representative choice. Both the senator and his talented wife have long been prominent in Washington society. Mrs. Burrows is a prominent member of the daughters of the American Revolution.

Senator Burrows hails from the city of Kalamazoo, Mich. He was born in 1847, is a lawyer by profession and education, and was an officer in the Union army. He served his home county as prosecuting attorney, and was elected first to the United States congress in the forty-third session. He served in the lower house in the forty-third, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses. He was appointed solicitor of the United States treasury department by President Arthur in 1884, but declined the office. He was elected delegate-at-large from Michigan to the national republican convention at Chicago in 1884, thus sitting for the first time in a great republican national nominating body, 24 years before he was destined to wield the gavel as temporary presiding officer from another such mighty congress of public men, gathered together from coast to coast. He was again elected and served in the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses. He was twice elected speaker pro tem and the house of representatives and would have been a probability as a speaker of the house had he remained in the lower branch of congress instead of accepting elevation. He resigned his seat in the house January 23, 1895, to assume the office of United States senator from Michigan. He was re-elected in 1899 for the full term of six years, and again in 1905. His term of office will expire March 3, 1911. Senator Burrows is not only a prominent statesman, but he is a forceful orator, and probably there is no republican in the country who has a longer record of party campaign to his credit than he.

It Nearly Makes Me Sick

A customer who was in our curtain department recently made the above remark. Why she felt sick? She was fitting up a summer cottage and it happened to be convenient for her to run into Chicago, being in a great hurry. She visited Chicago's leading store and made a few purchases in the curtain department. Desiring some drapery and curtains for another room which she fixed up later, and being an old customer of The Big Store's, she naturally called to see what we offered. When she compared our prices and qualities with what she had bought on State St. she found that she had paid just about double our prices, and this is no dream—it happens right along.

We Pay $2.50.

We could buy beans as low as 30 cents per bushel, yet we pay $2.50 for ours. We buy ours in Michigan, for there a certain soil, rich in nitrogen, grows the best beans that we know.

Our buyers select the choicest part of the crop. All the beans that we buy are picked over by hand, so that we get only the whitest, the plumpest, the fullest grown.

That is why we pay $2.50. You can't get such beans—not at one store in twenty. That is one reason why home beans are never so good as Van Camp's.

VanCamp's
PORK AND BEANS

We Pay $3.45

We could buy tomato juice for 75c per barrel. Yet we pay $3.45 for just the ripe tomatoes used in a barrel of ours.

Some tomato sauce is made from tomatoes picked green, and ripened in shipment. But the sauce is flat.

Some is made from scraps of a canning factory—the skins and the cuttings. But the sauce is not rich.

Ours is made from full-ripe tomatoes, grown close to our kitchens, and ripened on the vines. We pick them just at the time when the juice reaches perfection.

We could buy catsup, ready-made, for exactly one-fifth what ours costs to make. But that superlative zest which you get in Van Camp's would be lacking.

Prices: 10c, 15c and 20c per can. You can get them without the tomato sauce, if you prefer. At your grocers.

Don't Try to Bake Beans

It takes too long. Then, after all your trouble, the result is nothing like Van Camp's. Not because you don't know, but you lack the facilities. And you need more heat.

Beans, more than anything else, need to be factory cooked. It is not merely a question of having them palatable. It is the vital need of making them digestible. You can't break down the fibre of beans without a terrific heat.

This is how we do it:

After boiling our beans in two waters we bake them.

We bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together. Thus we get our delicious blend.

Our ovens are heated to 245 degrees, and the beans are baked 90 minutes. They are baked in live steam—not in dry heat. That is why they don't scorch.

In an oven heated to boiling point—212 degrees—it would take you six hours to do what we do in those 90 minutes.

When we are done, the beans are so meaty that they mash like potatoes. They are thoroughly digestible, for that fierce heat has broken the fibre down. Yet the beans are whole, and you get the nutty flavor which distinguishes Van Camp's.

And the beans are sterilized; they require no preservative. They remain till you use them as fresh and as savory as when they come out of our ovens.

Compare that with home cooking.

You bake indry heat because you haven't the steam. The top beans are baked brown, but the beans in the center are not even half baked.

The heat of your oven is insufficient. That is why you say beans are heavy. You have simply failed to apply enough heat to make them digestible.

The tomato sauce, too, is not baked into the beans.

After all your trouble, you have not a dish that compares with Van Camp's. No such flavor or zest, not nutty, not mealy. Yet it has cost you more than Van Camp's.

Don't Buy the Wrong Beans

There is a vast difference between one brand and another. Try Van Camp's once—on our say-so. Then let the beans themselves decide what brand you buy next.

We know—better than anyone else—how to prepare baked beans. This is our specialty—our one claim to supremacy. We have spent 47 years in learning how to perfect it.

The result is, Van Camp's command, by several times over, the largest sale in the world.

There are brands that cost less—and no wonder. Beans can be bought for one-seventh what we pay. Catsup is sold for one-fifth what ours costs.

Despite their cheapness, your grocer makes more on the cheap beans than he makes on Van Camp's.

But you don't want them. They cost double their value. And think what you save, in the long run, by serving beans that your people like. They will eat them more frequently. And no other food, when measured by nourishment, is nearly so cheap as beans.

Beans are Nature's choicest food, when they are rightly cooked. They are 84% protein, starch, sugar and nitrogen. And those are the foods that we need.

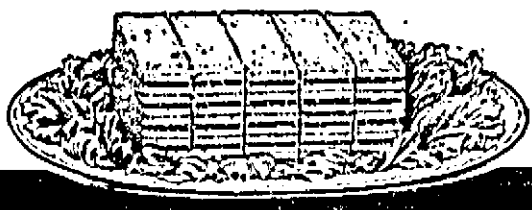

They are even more nutritious than wheat.

You eat them for luncheon, sometimes. But have you ever thought what a breakfast dish they would make? And how nice they are served with ham?

Van Camp's are convenient. If you keep a dozen cans in the house, you have a meal always ready. And what dish is more appetizing—what blend more tempting—than pork and beans and tomato sauce, if they are right?

That is why we say Van Camp's. Once know their nutty flavor, their tang and their zest and you will eat beans more frequently.

Don't judge by other brands. Learn from Van Camp's how really good baked beans can be.

Of Associates Refrained From Introducing Order For Sam Brown's Salary Last Evening.

Colleagues in the common council earnestly pleaded with Alderman Watt last evening not to introduce an order providing for the payment of Officer Sam Brown's salary and thereby again place them on record before their constituents. Some of the latter, it appeared, do not see the force of the arguments advanced and are making it uncomfortable for them at times. Ald. Watt was finally prevailed upon to withhold the order and the session passed off without any serious clash. Mayor Heddes was absent and J. J. Dullin, president of the council, which is the case.

Financial Transactions.
The finance committee submitted the city treasurer's report for May and the same was accepted and placed on file. The report on bills which was also adopted included an item of $64.25 for dynamite. City Treasurer Fathers was authorized to borrow $3,000 and place the same to the credit of the general fund, and the city clerk was instructed to ask the banks of the city to file not later than the first of the month of June 22, bills for the use of the city money during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

More Grading Suits Settled.
On recommendation of the judiciary committee City Attorney Maxfield was authorized to settle for $25, clerk's fees, and the cancellation of tax certificates outstanding against the property, the grading suits now pending in circuit court. The titles of these actions are: John Doe et al. vs. W. T. Shyles, D. K. Jeffries, and Wm. Reger, et al. and Saylor and Reger, vs. the City of Janesville. It was moved, seconded, and carried that a deed filed by James Mills, granting to the city all rights in the lands and construction of sewers from lot 2, block 10, original plat, to the sewer pipes laid on East Milwaukee street in front of the said lot, be accepted and recorded. The municipal court report for May, showing that fees, fines, penalties, and city marshal fees amounting to $233.25 had been collected was received and placed on file. Rotstein Bros. bond as junk dealers was accepted. A condemnation from Dr. George Philfeld, certifying to the severe illness and financial straits of Julius Deutch and recommending that he be allowed to continue his occupation as a junk-dealer without paying a license was laid on the table by unanimous vote.

Highways and Walks.
The Chief Clerk's report was accepted and the fire and water committee and the Chief Engineer were instructed to buy on approval one turn-out for the use of the department. Assistant Street Commissioner Smith's report on how walks needed and the report of the street assessment committee on proposals received for installing cement curbs and gutters on Garfield avenue, Wheeler, Burlington, and other streets was received and placed on file. A resolution calling for the improvement of Cherry street from Pleasant St. to Western avenue with cement curbing and instructing the proper committee to assess the benefits and damages was passed. On motion of Ald. Brown two orders introduced by Ald. Brown were referred to the highway committee. One of these provided for the establishment of the division line on the westerly side of Division street from Milwaukee street to Court street at a distance of five feet from the property line and upon the westerly side of that portion of the said street at a distance of 9 ft. from the property line. The other directed the city engineer to file a sidewalk grade for the easterly side of Wisconsin street from Milwaukee street to Court street and stipulated that the sidewalk line on the easterly side of that portion of the said street be established at a distance of 11 ft. from the property line and that the line on the westerly side be established at a distance of 11 ft. from the property line. The city engineer was directed to file a sidewalk grade from the easterly side of Milton Ave. from Milwaukee Ave. to Prospect Ave. Street Commissioner Bennett was directed to serve notice on the owners of lots 11 and 12, block 7, in the Forest Park addition to build standard walks in front of the said property on Forest Park boulevard.

Fathers' Sidewalk Question.
The following protest was received and placed on file:

IMPERATIVE NEED OF A NEW FIRE ENGINE

Again Emphasized in Chief Klein's Quarterly Report—Julius Marquess Loss Adjusted on $155,500

That the Julius Marquess warehouse fire loss was adjusted on a basis of $155,500—$151,500 for the loss destroyed and $4,000 for the building—instead of $250,000 originally claimed, was one of the interesting statements made by Chief Henry C. Klein of the fire department in his quarterly report to the common council last evening. With this exception the losses for the year have been exceedingly small. Emphasis was laid on the need of a new fire engine, the necessity of making some adequate provision for the support of the fire police, and several other important matters. The report in detail was as follows:

"Since the first day of January the department has responded to thirty-three (33) alarms of fire, of which number twenty (20) were telephone or alarm calls. "All fire apparatus and horses are in good serviceable condition, except as noted in this and previous reports, and I will kindly request that they be given due consideration. "I will respectfully call the attention of the common council to the fact that some assistance, financial or otherwise, will be needed in the near future by the fire police company, as this company was heretofore supported by the 2 per cent derived from the insurance premiums paid in Janesville, and as one-half of this amount has been diverted from this source, other provisions should be made so as to enable this company to remain in the fire service.

"During the month of May just passed, the chief engineer connected with the city fire alarm telegraph two private firm alarm boxes, which are located as follows: Box No. 93, in the Forest Shade Co.; Box No. 94, at the Hanson Furniture Co. The expense of the same will be paid by those companies.

"The chief engineer will respectfully ask that the common council pass an order requesting the Janesville Water company, to move two of the three fire hydrants located at the block between Woolen mill. The above request is made on the grounds that these hydrants are located too near the above buildings, and in case of a fire in this factory it is liable to burn our fire hose off, and in that event, there would be only one other hydrant available for fire streams. "I will respectfully recommend that the telephones in fire stations No. 2 and 3 be disconnected, and that these stations be connected with No. 1 by private telephones. The foregoing request is made on the grounds that it will make the "running card" more effective, and prevent at times some of the confusion that has been caused on telephone calls, on account of all lines to direct the movements of those companies.

"Some time or more years ago there were purchased two deluge sets, the same being intended to be used on large hot fires, where a large quantity of water was desirable. One of them has since that time been relegated to the scrap pile, an account of being rotted out, and the other one is not in a reliable condition. If it is the sincere desire of the common council to have such apparatus in the department it will be necessary to take some steps to replace the same. I will therefore respectfully suggest that a turn-out nozzle be purchased in place of the above as the same is indestructible, and will do the same work with less men than a deluge outfit. (An order providing for the purchase of such a nozzle was passed by the council.)

"In nearly all of my quarterly reports submitted during the last three years, the council's attention has been called to the condition of the steam fire engine, as stated in all of these reports this engine has not sufficient capacity in its present condition to cope with a serious fire, should it become necessary to call on such apparatus in extreme cases.

"While I concede that it is not often that such apparatus is called into commission in our city, yet the same was used twice during my incumbency in office to advantage. In that it saved the price of many new engines to afflicted property owners, thereby supporting my contentions that the city of Janesville as a whole is better able to stand the cost of a new engine and maintaining of the same than its old-fashioned property holders can afford to do such amount. If such apparatus will prevent the same in the future, as it has in the past, and to elucidate where the same is applicable I will respectfully direct your attention to the fire that was in Monterey at the lower cotton mill, where the wheel house, boiler and engine room was saved by the fire engine, as it was necessary to call on this piece of apparatus for the reason that the department fire hose was burned off the fire hydrants, on account of the close proximity of the burning building to the same.

"In the opinion of a large number of property owners it is a good idea to keep a first class engine in the city as the need for the same has many times been exemplified in other cities, where the conditions were the same as they are here. I do not believe it to be wise not to keep an extra safeguard in the form of a fire engine, no matter what the other facilities may be. Every practical man knows that water mains can, and often do, fail, in one way or another, and that such failure cannot be made good at once by any human skill or power. A defect in water mains, taken such time as labor to repair and when such fault should show itself at the time of a fire, a good steam fire engine is an absolute necessity, as the "high pressure" that we depend on in the time of fire would not be forthcoming if conditions should become as above stated.

"In conclusion I cannot refrain from saying that our city should keep the fire department strictly up-to-date, and supplied with all useful appliances for fire fighting commensurate with a city of our size. While it is true that some apparatus may never be needed, and if not so much the better for our property owners, but if it should be needed, it will be wanted, and it is better to have it than to have it not. I believe that it is a waste of money to buy anything that is not used on or at every fire. This belief is a fallacious one, and ought not to be entertained to the extent that it will impair the efficiency

ADVERTISING WISDOM.
The first ad advertiser knows that the sidewalk is only the first link in an endless chain, provided the goods have merit enough to be repeated. Hence the advertiser is willing to spend more than the cost of the ad to introduce it into a home, expecting his profits from repeat sales. These facts known to the experienced manufacturers and advertisers, are now becoming known to the retailers, and to the public at large.

of the department, especially in the matter of a steam engine. No one would be more pleased than the chief engineer of the fire department to see a new fire engine purchased for emergency, and then see it rust out for the want of use on fires.

SHOWS INCREASE IN THE PENSION LISTS

Thirty-nine Above the Deaths Is Increase Recorded for Month of May.

Magdeburg, the pension agent at Milwaukee, makes an interesting report for the month of May showing that despite the total number of 137 deaths during the month the increase for the same period was 39 over the total for last month. In all there are 48,279 pensioners on the lists of the Milwaukee office which includes the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota and North and South Dakota. They are divided into the following classes:

PRESENTED A LEAGUE PIN TO MISS LAWSON

Evansville Epworth League Has Farewell Reception on Thursday for Departing Member.

Evansville, June 8.—A farewell reception was tendered Miss Mary Lawson by the Epworth League Society in the church parlors on Thursday evening. A short program was given consisting mainly of several fine instrumental selections by Miss Mayme Hewitt of Janesville and a vocal solo by Miss Madge Robinson. Rev. T. W. North was called on for a talk in which he expressed deep regret that Mr. Lawson and family were to leave Evansville. In behalf of the Epworth League he then presented Miss Lawson with a gold E. L. pin as a token of the high esteem in which she is held by the society. Miss Lawson was one of the most faithful members in the league and will be greatly missed not only by her church friends but by many others to whom she endeared herself. The family expect to leave for Australia Saturday, June 13.

Robert Pearson will be in Chicago Saturday and Sunday as the guest of his friend, Lefroy Kling. Miss Helen Standish arrived last Thursday from Minneapolis for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Standish. The family are at Lake Kegonsa this week for an outing of several days.

About thirty relatives were present and passed a very pleasant evening. Mr. Carpenter was presented with a handsome gold ring and Mrs. Ballard was the recipient of a nice billie.

Miss Ada Clark and Roy Andrews both of Calverville, were quietly married in Rockford last Thursday. Mr. Andrews is deputy agent at Calverville where they will make their home. ## Be Ye Electric?

It is very necessary for the up-to-date merchant to equip his store or place of business with artificial illumination of a quality as closely resembling daylight as possible.

ELECTRIC LIGHT is the only really satisfactory light for stores, because it does most closely approximate daylight and gives similar color values to fabrics, etc.

Don't compel a clerk to carry his goods—and his customer to the street door to show the actual color of the material he is selling.

Be electric. Light up. Take advantage of our Tungsten Lamp proposition.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, June 9, 1868.—Making it lively—We are glad to see an earnest disposition on the part of the city authorities to squelch out Sunday liquor selling and to deal justly with those who infringe on the law and the terms of their license. In accordance with this three warrants have recently been issued against Ed. Connel, one for selling liquor on Sunday, one for selling without a license and one for violation of the law prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors to minors. The case came up for hearing this morning. On the first charge he was fined $25 and costs; on the second $10; and the third case was adjourned until Monday next. Equal and exact justice should be meted out to all who violate the law.

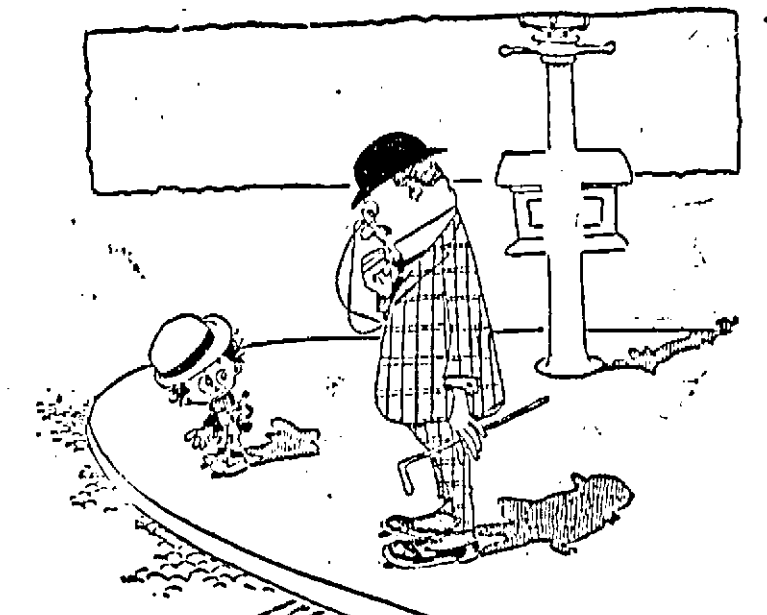

Jefferson, June 9.—A special train with the Chicago & Northwestern officials on board made the run from Janesville to this place in 35 minutes. The people turned out en masse with music and gave the party a cordial and enthusiastic reception. The President, Mr. Keep, and his party were delighted with the country through which the road passed.

New York, June 9.—The Herald prints a private letter of Judge Chase in which he says he was not a participant on either side of the impeachment trial. He says he shall adhere to his old creed of equal rights. They may denounce me and abuse me and read me out of the party if they choose; I follow my old lights, not the new. What the developments of the future may be I know not; I neither expect nor desire to be a candidate again. It would however gratify me exceedingly if the democratic party would take the ground which would assure the party against all attempts to subvert the principles of universal suffrage, established in the right and to be established in all the southern state constitutions. Then I think the future of the great cause for which I have labored so long, would be assured and I should not regret my absence from political labors.

Misses Clara Erickson and Pearl Johnson came home from Stoughton last week for their summer vacation. Arthur Erickson from near Evansville was an over Sunday visitor at the home of J. Porter.

Leslie Viney who has been in quite poor health for several weeks is very much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Savage and Mrs. Elsie Savage spent Saturday afternoon at Evansville.

About a half dozen Ansons attended third degree work at Stoughton last Tuesday evening.

Several of Lily Viney's playmates spent last Saturday afternoon at her apartment.

PLEADED GUILTY OF FRAUD.

Three St. Paul Brokers Are Fined $2,500 Each.

St. Paul, Minn., June 9.—George W. Wood, Lewis A. Wood and Forest H. Wood pleaded guilty Monday afternoon before Judge Page Morris in the federal court to the first count in the indictments charging them with conspiracy to defraud and misuse of the mails in the operation of the Edwards-Wood company. A fine of $2,500 on each of the defendants was imposed and was paid at once.

The Edwards-Wood company was formerly a grain brokerage company doing business in St. Paul and was succeeded by the Wisconsin Grain company.

Tragedy in County Seat War.
Muskegon, Okla., June 9.—The sad and tragedy of the McIntosh county seat war was enacted Monday night when Gen. ## THE SATURDAY EVENING GAZETTE will bring results to Real Estate Advertisers

WHY?

BECAUSE
It interests the buying public. Just one day ahead—before they go to bed—allowing them to give the matter consideration; to get out bright and early Sunday morning and look over the property.

BECAUSE
the husband and wife planning for a home, as nearly all do, have to talk it over in the family circle. . . . .

BECAUSE
Saturday is usually pay-day, and it's a good time to talk to men when they have their pay envelopes—money always suggests money—and the question of a wise investment is natural.

BECAUSE
It allows them to be the early bird, and permits them to gather in the good things while others are enjoying their Sunday morning slumbers.

BECAUSE
THE GAZETTE circulates among people who have money to spend and do spend it among advertisers who make a bid for their patronage.

BECAUSE
THE GAZETTE readers combine to make a fertile field that is indeed worth cultivating—growing larger each and every day.

BECAUSE
If you give THE GAZETTE a trial by placing your advertising in its columns, it will be the means of making sales for you that otherwise would escape.

BECAUSE
It is the cheapest way to reach the greatest number of people.

ATTACKS IKON WORSHIP.
Russian Deputy Suspended by the Duma for Speech.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The duma Monday night voted the suspension for 15 sittings of M. Tchekholdze, a Social Democratic deputy from the Caucasus, for a speech which he made what the duma regarded as a mockery of religion.

During the course of a debate on the question of the Imperial treasury allowing grants to support a new school, M. Tchekholdze introduced the subject of ikon painting. He declared that orthodox Russians believe in the miracle working properties of the ikon; hence artistic improvement in design would be useless. From the national point of view, he continued, an ikon is entirely symbolic of a pagan form of religion. The incident created a great tumult in the house and the Socialists left the hall in a body as a protest against the suspension of the deputy.
